Terence is a Horned Frog through and through. As a member of the first graduating class of TCU Community Scholars, Terence graduated with a BS in Psychology in 2004. Following graduation, he worked as a substitute teacher in FWISD and served in the TCU Center for Community Involvement & Service-Learning as an AmeriCorps*VISTA volunteer. After the completion of his AmeriCorps*VISTA term of service, he earned his M.Ed. in Educational Administration from TCU in 2008. Terence then headed to California to work in the Haas Center for Public Service at Stanford University. He served as the Academic Coordinator for the Stanford College Prep Program, which served low-income, first-generation students of color from East Palo Alto.

After his brief stint in northern California, Terence returned to Fort Worth. He began working in the Center for Academic Services in June 2009. While he primarily advises pre-major students, Terence also advises first-year Anthropology, Economics, Religion, and Sociology students.

Terence enjoys working with college students because of the opportunity to participate in such an exciting time in their lives. He wants to have a positive impact on their college experience and assist them in navigating the path to their best fit major and career.
